EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The process of getting regulatory clearances for India's indigenous COVID vaccine, Covaxin, is at a puzzling stage. While Bharat Biotech, the vaccine manufacturer, has been unable to present a strong enough case for an emergency approval by WHO, the recent conditional clearance by the CDC in the US has added to mystery around Covaxin's international approval. CDC's approval is unclear on whether it covers all people who have been administered Covaxin or only those who got it as participants in clinical trials.

At this point, GoI has to get a grip on the situation. Covaxin is GoI's intellectual property as it was developed by the National Institute of Virology. The Supreme Court was informed by GoI that it receives royalty from the sale of Covaxin. The delay in international regulatory clearance has a negative impact on India's vaccination campaign, people who have been administered Covaxin and need to travel, and the country's vaccine industry. GoI needs to step in to get to the bottom of the problem here. It's in our larger interest. — In The Times of India

Blind football player helps his team

Modesto: Jasen Bracy became completely blind at the age of 7, but he didn't let that setback come between him and his dream of playing football, and he is now a quarterback for the Modesto Raiders.

Jasen, who lives in Modesto, California, was diagnosed with retinoblastoma, a type of cancer that causes tumors in the retina, when he was only 1-year-old. Despite undergoing several treatments to treat his condition, there was no saving his eyesight, and by age 7, Jasen was completely blind. Today, the only thing he can distinguish is whether it is daytime or nighttime. But despite growing up blind, Jasen never hesitated in following his dreams, no matter how ambitious they may have seemed. And it was this ambitious attitude that won him the role of quarterback on a local football team.

Jordan's shoes sold for 1.47 million dollars

New York: A pair of Nike shoes worn by Michael Jordan during his rookie season with the Chicago Bulls sold for a record-breaking 1.47 million dollars at a Las Vegas auction.

Auction house Sotheby's said the white and red Nike Air Ships, which were worn by Jordan during his fifth game with the Bulls in 1984, set a new world record as the most valuable game-worn shoes ever sold from any sport when they fetched the top bid.

The shoes, the first pair created for Jordan by Nike, were autographed by the basketball superstar.

The sale beat the previous record of 615,000 dollars, which was set when a pair of shoes worn by Jordan during a 1985 exhibition game were sold by auctioneers Christie's in August 2020.

Road hump needed near this School

Sir,

I would like to request the authorities concerned to install a road hump opposite to Mallikarjuna School in Udayagiri, near Water Tank. Since the road has no speed-breaker at present, it is causing a lot of problem and inconvenience to the school-going children and the residents of the locality.

On behalf of the tax-paying citizens and the motorists, I once again request the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and the Traffic Police Department officials to look into this issue and take measures to install the road hump at the earliest and especially help the school-going children

APOLLO DOC TALK
Apollo HOSPITALS
STROKE READY HOSPITALS
Acute Ischemic Stroke is also known as brain attack is a neurological problem identified as one of the major health risks in developing countries. It is associated with significant disability and even death in some cases. When somebody has a stroke, every second that goes by is crucial. As brain tissue and millions of neurons begin to fade away, time could not be more precious. Hence it warrants immediate specialist attention. Clot-busting drug (tissue plasminogen activator - tPA) within four and a half hours and Mechanical Thrombectomy within six hours of the onset of the symptoms of stroke is used in selected patients of ischemic strokes with good results. The effect of both of the above is strongly time-dependent, it works better when done within 90 minutes. The major reason for their underutilization is that acute stroke patients don't come to stroke-ready hospitals within the above golden time. Time is everything when dealing with stroke patients, not all hospitals are stroke-ready. A stroke-ready hospital is prepared 24x7 to receive(emergency physician) & evaluate/treat(neurologist, neuro-interventional radiologist) an acute stroke patient. Such hospitals have facilities for both clot buster therapy and mechanical thrombectomy. Minutes can save lives, learn the signs, say it's a stroke and rush to a stroke ready hospital.

Heartbroken fans make a beeline to bid tearful adieu

Bengaluru, Oct. 30 (Agencies)- Kannada actor Puneeth Rajkumar's untimely death at 46 yesterday has left his fans heartbroken. Thousands of fans have been making a beeline to the Sree Kanteerava Stadium since last evening where his mortal remains have been kept for the public to pay homage.

Puneeth Rajkumar

Bengaluru Police said that the crowd numbering more than two lakh had the last glimpse of the actor last night with more and more fans continuously pouring in from across the State.

KSRTC buses have been carrying fans from nearby districts including Chamarajanagar, Bengaluru, Kolar, Mandya and also Mysuru.

All the roads leading to Kanteerava Stadium and several arterial roads around the area have choked with traffic and heavy movement of fans on foot who have parked their vehicles at far away places to have the last glimpse of the actor.

The Police and security personnel are having a tough time in dispersing the queue as all of them are expressing a desire to be there for some time seeing their icon.

Many of the fans are waiting to get into the Stadium in a collective show of love and solidarity. Unfortunately for them, the man whose warm smile had captured their hearts for decades, is no more and they cannot digest this fact.

Known to be a youth icon, Puneeth's untimely demise has come as a shock to Karnataka as well as his well-wishers beyond the State. As his body lies in state, his fans are passing by in queues quietly, stunned by what they were seeing.

Several fans were seen folding their hands above their heads and crying in Kannada, "what was the need for you to go so soon" and "46 is not the age to die". While male population dominated the crowd, there were a considerable number of women and students too in the queue.

Seeing the continuous flow of fans to the Stadium, it was amply clear that his admirers loved Puneeth not only because he was Dr. Rajkumar's son, it's also because he carved out his own identity in Sandalwood.

"He's a very, very good man. I've seen him since a young age. He made a name for himself in the film industry. We have only love and faith for him. We are so upset. I haven't even eaten. We just pray to God that he's okay. More than a celebrity he was a good man. That's why we love him," said a fan.

His acting, dance, dialogue delivery, character, social service, simplicity and humble nature drew fans towards him like a magnet and he took the Kannada industry to the next level. As the entire State is plunged into mourning, his memories will live on in celluloid, watched and rewatched by his legion of fans.

Puneeth third in Dr. Raj family to donate eyes: Dr. Bhujang Shetty

Bengaluru, Oct. 30 (Agencies)- Actor Puneeth Rajkumar has followed in the footsteps of his late father Dr. Rajkumar as his eyes were donated. He became the third in the family to donate eyes.

Soon after Puneeth was declared dead, his brother Raghavendra Rajkumar placed a request with Dr. Rajkumar Eye Bank run by Narayana Nethralaya to collect the actor's eyes. Dr. Rajkumar had pledged the eyes of his entire family during the inauguration of Narayana Nethralaya in Bengaluru in 1994. After his death in 2006, his wishes were fulfilled.

He had inspired many to pledge their eyes. As per the eye bank's website, "the legendary Kannada actor Dr. Rajkumar believed that sight is precious and that there is no point burying or burning healthy eyes that can be used to help someone else."

"Amidst the grief, Raghavendra Rajkumar called me and said that the family wants to donate his corneas. He was declared dead at 2.30 pm and the harvest was done at 2.45 pm. His corneas were intact. They will be used for needy patients at the earliest," said Dr. Bhujang Shetty, Chairperson, Narayana Nethralaya and Head of Dr. Rajkumar Eye Bank.

"Pledging is one thing, but recalling the pledge during the sad demise of a family member amidst grief is a great move. This is the third pair of eyes harvested from the Rajkumar family," said Dr. Shetty. Pointing out that eye donations had reduced by 80 percent during the pandemic, he said, "We hope this gesture by the family will give a boost to eye donations and inspire others to donate. Eyes can be retrieved within six hours of death but earlier the better."

Mysuru, Oct.30- Malabar Group Chairman M.P. Ahammed has expressed deep sorrow on the untimely demise of Puneeth Rajkumar, the celebrated Kannada star, who was a former Brand Ambassador of Malabar Gold and Diamonds in Karnataka.

"As our Brand Ambassador to Karnataka, Puneeth's contribution was integral to introducing Malabar Gold and Diamonds to the people of Karnataka. His association was extremely valuable to our brand, and we are deeply shocked by this news," he added.

A path-breaking research work

India that is Bharat

Coloniality, Civilisation, Constitution

By R. Chandra Prakash

Title of the book India that is Bharat may echo the first two words in the Article 1 of our Constitution. However, Sai Deepak has chosen this format to portray stark contrasts between two — India that emerged post-independence and Bharat that was part of Indic Civilisation. Sai Deepak has mined voluminous historical information to establish the schism between India and Bharat and the contributions of colonisers leading to that schism. This book is the first of the proposed trilogy.

Chandra Prakash

3 Epoch-Making Events

Sai Deepak claims that the three events that occurred within a short span between August and December 2019, namely, Amendments to Articles 367 and 370 reorganising the State of Jammu & Kashmir; Supreme Court's decision affirming the ownership of the Deity Shri Ram Lalla over His birth-place in Ayodhya, thereby validating a 500-year-old Indic civilisational and religious movement to reclaim Shri Ram Janmabhoomi; and Amendment to the Citizenship Act 2019, have given titanic shifts in the Indian history that touched upon quite a few fault lines, unresolved legacy and civilisational issues. He feels that these and more so the subsequent events questioned the very legitimacy of the Indian State and Indic society. This made him to dig into historical records to understand how such fault lines and unresolved legacy permeated into our Constitution and post-independence national psyche. The consequential result was this book.

Scope of this book

In this book, Sai Deepak has tried to explore the influence of European colonial consciousness and coloniality on Bharat, in particular its religious and racial roots, as the successor State to the Indic civilisation and the origins of the Indian Constitution. This book lays the foundation for its sequels and covers the period between the Age of Discovery, marked by Christopher Columbus' expedition in 1492, and the reshaping of Bharat through a British-made Constitution — the Government of India Act of 1919.

The author has laid out his historical analysis under three distinct sections, namely Section-I:* Coloniality, Section II: Civilisation and Section III: Constitution. He has very methodically established the historical inter-linkages between these three sections.

Coloniality

Section on Coloniality with 125 pages is the second largest part of this book. It has five chapters which challenge the semantics around the words Colonisation, Colonialism, Coloniality and Decoloniality; explain the Discovery of Coloniality and the Birth of Decoloniality; establish the impact of Coloniality on Indigenous Faiths, Nature and Knowledge; expose the role of European Political Structures in Entrenching of Coloniality and finally uncover the fakeness of Decoloniality in the context of Indigenous civilisational superiority.

He lays bare the deep religious objectives of Eurocentric colonialism which hitherto remained not much articulated but have had devastating effects on the pre-existing socio-cultural ethos of colonised countries. For example 'according to decolonial thought, European coloniality gave birth to the 'cultural complex' of 'modernity' and 'rationality', apart from the 'modern' categories religion and race. Importantly, according to decolonial school, 'post-colonialism' gives the impression that the colonial mindset or consciousness ended with decolonialism, when in fact, it has survived decolonisation and continues to impact decolonised/ 'independent', 'societies'. For Sai Deepak 'colonisation is the process, colonialism is the policy and coloniality is mindset or the thought that underpins or drives colonialism'. Therefore, the author empathically suggests that India should have its own definitions of coloniality and decoloniality without being fettered or limited in any manner by the experience and conclusions of countries like Americas and Africa.

Further, the author opines that the colonial education was offered not as an alternative to pre-existing indigenous form of education but with the specific objective of gradually erasing its existence. Colonial education annihilated a society's beliefs in itself. It made the colonised people see their past as one of vast wastelands on non-achievement and it made them desirous of distancing themselves from that wasteland and instead identify with an entity that was furthest removed from the European culture. Not only did it push the colonialised natives further away from their heritage but it also undermined their self-confidence at an individual level. He questions the provincial validity of Europeanism and its false claim of universalism. He emphasises that the rest of the world, particularly India, was not living in the Dark Ages before Pax Europaea or European Peace, and would certainly not plunge into ignorance and darkness after the demise of Pax Europaea.

> "And the author's proposition that the Constitution must be alive to history to serve its intended purpose underscores the weaknesses of India's legal foundations"

Civilisation

With 194 pages consisting of four chapters, this is the largest section of the book. It covers Bharat and its Coloniality and Colonial Consciousness; Bharat as a Civilisation; European Coloniality and Indic Civilisation; and Christian Colonial Consciousness, the Hindu Religion, Caste, Tribe and Education. Bharat's civilisational grandeur is the backdrop of this section. Bharat had reached its civilisational zenith even before many other countries in the world. Its religious churning and innovative processes are well-recorded. So also its achievements in the areas of Philosophy, Mathematics, Astronomy, Astrology, Agronomy, Ayurveda, Economics and others. Sanathana Dharma taught everyone to live in harmony with nature and understand the utility and futility of life on earth. It is these holistic achievements which made Indic Civilisation a magnetic force in the world. And lead other distant countries of the world to seek trade and educational relationship with Bharat.

By the time Europeans arrived on the Indian shores, India had already been under the 'Islamic - Middle Eastern' colonisation. Sai Deepak quotes exhaustively Dr. B.R. Ambedkar [Pakistan or the Partition of India] in explaining how during the 762 years of incessant Muslim invasions Indic Civilisation underwent challenging times. As to how Bharat's areas and its borders were truncated. And thereafter came the European coloniality. Both the colinialities posed threat to the very existence of Bharat's indigeneity and consciousness. The author extensively quotes from eminent historians such as Radha Kumud Mookerji and Jadunath Sarkar, to highlight the greatness of Indic Civilisation before its colonisation.

From the deliberations in the British Parliament, the author provides proofs as to how ever since 1797 when Charles Grant and others like him were obsessed with the idea of using colonial education to cure the "Hindoos" .... and darkness attributed to "Hindoo religion". In 1811, missionary activity was pursuing the need for such a course of action 'for the farther promoting of Christian knowledge and increase of piety and virtue .... in Popish and infidel parts of the world". Both the houses of the British Parliament had received hundreds of petitions from British Churches fervently appealing for the 'propagation of Christian knowledge in India.' 'Reformer' Rajaram Mohan Roy's letter to William Pitt, Lord Amherst, is an indication of impending damage to the Indic civilisation. Roy beseeches for the introduction of English medium of education to uplift the otherwise semi-literate and illiterate population of the colony! With the introduction of Thomas Babington Macaulay's Minute in 1835, English medium of education became a reality which succeeded in breaking down the long-standing Gurukula based education system.

Even though there is some feeling that Bharat has remained un-proselytised for the most part, the author is of the opinion that there has been effective alienation of large part of Bharat from the Indic consciousness and has, in fact, turned a significant cross-section of Bharat against it.

Constitution

This is the third and final section running into about 75 pages, with only two chapters dealing with Coloniality, Civilisation and Constitution; and The Standard of Civilisation, the League of Nations and the Government of India Act of 1919.

Tree-felling: Forest Department holds public hearing

Activists tear down letters favouring felling of 537 trees

Mysuru, Oct.30 (MTY&DM)- The public hearing conducted by the Forest Department this morning here on felling of roadside trees for NHAI's (National Highways Authority of India) Highway expansion plans, saw environmental activists tearing up consent letters that were in support of tree-felling.

The Forest Department had invited objections, if any, from members of the public for proposed felling of 537 trees of various species along the National Highway service road on a 9-km stretch from Bannur Ring Road junction (Devegowda Circle) to APMC junction on Nanjangud road, for service road expansion.

The public hearing today on the felling of trees took place near APMC Yard on Mysuru-Nanjangud road.

Ahead of the public hearing, about 30 members of the public and environmental activists signed the register. The Forest Department set the tone for the hearing by collecting letters (for and against) for the felling of trees. After this, the Forest Department announced that they had received 24 letters that were for and 22 against the felling of trees.

Objecting to the announcement, the activists who were opposed to the felling of trees, questioned the veracity of claims made by the Forest Department, when only 30 of them had registered today and the Department had received a much higher number of letters.

Wondering how this could happen, the activists demanded raising of hands by the participants, which however did not take place amid the confusions and contradictions.

Accusing the officials of favouring only those who were in support of felling of trees, the activists, terming the entire exercise as farce, tore down the consent letters that supported tree felling.

After the hearing, the Forest Department authorities announced that they would formally announce the Department's decision in a couple of days.

ACF Rangaswamy, RFO Prashanth Kumar, NHAI Engineers Ramesh, Irfan and Jayaswamy, DRFOs Prasanna, Satish and other officials were present.

Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), Mysuru District Convener Malavika Gubbivani, Wildlife activist Tanuja, Team Mysore's Hiriyanna and Anand, activist Darshan and other members of the public and nearby villagers took part in the public hearing.

This section explains the influence of Coloniality and Christianity on Bharat's Indic civilisation between 1797 and 1919. 'Sepoy Mutiny' of 1857 was a cross-road where the Crown came out of the shadows and overtook the reign from East India Company. Passing of Government of India Act of 1919, which ultimately became the foundation stone for the Constitution of post-independence India, was an outcome of historical events narrated earlier leading to successful indoctrination and the contemporary compulsions such as war-torn Europe and the efforts to form League of Nations. Contents of the Act 1919 were more to the liking of the coloniser than to colonised. Bharat was turning into India.

A timely book

With his Engineering Degree from Anna University and a Law Degree from IIT Kharagpur, Sai Deepak has a unique combination of qualifications. His arguments before the Supreme Court in the Shri Sabarimala Ayyappa Temple and Shri Padmanabhaswamy Temple cases have established his command over the subject. His videos of lectures and discussions on YouTube prove his eloquence and thorough knowledge of Indic Civilisation. And his proposition that the Constitution must be alive to history to serve its intended purpose underscores the weaknesses of India's legal foundations.

For the past seven years, India has shown a political transformation. Returning of a nationalistic party with penchant for Indic values with a bigger majority of its own at the centre is a proof of that. This book is a timely publication in keeping with that national fervour. This volume generates a lot of interest in looking forward for its sequel.

That this book is a path-breaking research work is established by the quality of large number of quotations and source references. In some places the reading may become a bit heavy and slow. But that is due to the nature of its subject. Price is justified by the quality of its contents.

State mourns Puneeth Rajkumar

The mortal remains of the actor, wrapped in National Tricolour, have been kept at the stadium for fans and well-wishers to pay their respects. The land where the last rites will be performed is owned by Dr. Rajkumar Foundation and the Government has tweaked the law for the land to house Puneeth's remains.

CM appeals for calm

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot accompanied by CM Basavaraj Bommai and other Ministers of the State Cabinet were among those who paid their respects today. The CM has appealed to the people to maintain calm and not to lose patience so as to show disrespect to Dr. Rajkumar and Puneeth Rajkumar.

The Government has already announced that the last rites will be performed with full State honours. Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant has issued an order banning the sale of liquor across the city with immediate effect till Oct. 31 midnight.

Daughter flying to Bengaluru

Puneeth Rajkumar's daughter Dhruti landed at Indira Gandhi International Airport in New Delhi around 1 pm and she will board the Air India Flight (AI 502 Dreamliner) which is scheduled to leave New Delhi at 1.30 pm and scheduled to reach Bengaluru at 4 pm. Dhruti is the elder daughter of Puneeth who had gone to the US for studies two months ago. After receiving the news of her father's death, Dhruti immediately left for India from New York on Friday, but the flight was delayed for six hours.

Puneeth Rajkumar used to climb Chamundi Hill steps barefoot during 'Ashada Masa' and seek the blessings of the Goddess.

15-km procession

The mortal remains will be taken in a procession from Kanteerava Stadium to Kanteerava Studio tomorrow, where the last rites will be performed. A total distance of 15 kilometres will be covered along the procession route and the entire area would be cordoned off by Police and other security forces.

The Bengaluru Police, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has made arrangements for the funeral and also to contain the crowd. Only close relatives, some members of film personalities, priests and family members will be allowed to the place where the actor will be laid to rest.

Police on toes

Security has been beefed up all across the State with maximum force in Bengaluru to manage the situation. The Kannada film industry has come to a grinding halt and all movie shows have been cancelled in the State.

Film stars are revered in India, almost obsessively and even natural deaths of movie stars have led to violent turmoil in the past as distraught fans try to come to terms with the death of their idol. The death of Puneeth Rajkumar's father, Dr. Rajkumar in 2006 also led to outpourings of grief and shutdowns. The Government does not want a repeat of the situation and has taken tough measures.

Mysuru, Oct. 30 (SPN&DM)- A host of city organisations on Friday paid tributes to popular Sandalwood actor 'Power Star' Puneeth Rajkumar, who passed away in Bengaluru yesterday morning.

Several amateur theatre artistes, who gathered at Kalamandira premises last evening, paid candle light tributes to the deceased actor. Senior artistes Mime Ramesh, Rajashekar Kadamba and others took part.

Puneeth Rajkumar Abhimanigala Balaga, under the leadership of Ramegowda, paid their respects for the departed actor by offering floral tributes to the portrait of Puneeth Rajkumar at Dr. Rajkumar Park close to Palace North Gate.

Niranjana Mutt Samrakshana Samiti offered floral tributes to the portrait of Puneeth Rajkumar.

The Management and Staff of Gayatri Talkies on Chamaraja Double Road offered condolences by erecting a huge cutout of the Sandalwood actor in the Talkies premises.

A good number of sportspersons, who gathered at Javagal Srinath Circle on JLB Road, paid their tributes by lighting candles.

The members of Helping Hands, a city-based Jain youth organisation, too paid homage to the late actor at 'Kabutar Daan' venue near North Gate of Mysore Palace where pigeons are fed daily by donors.

Puneeth Rajkumar had dreamt of starting a school in Mysuru's Shakthidhama

Mysuru, Oct. 30 (PM&DM)- Floral tributes were paid to the portrait of Sandalwood actor 'Power Star' Puneeth Rajkumar at Shakthidhama, Women's Rehabilitation and Development Centre located near JSS College on Ooty Road here this morning.

Shakthidhama was founded by the family of Thespian Dr. Rajkumar in 1997, as a project to support women in distress and to educate girls from disadvantaged families.

Shakthidhama children also paid their condolence by singing 'Bombe Heluthaite, neene Rajakumaraa...,' a hit song from a Puneeth Rajkumar film, in chorus.

Speaking after paying tributes, Shakthidhama Executive Trustee G.S. Jayadeva said that Puneeth Rajkumar had dreamt of starting a full-fledged school for girl children in Shathidhama campus itself with an objective of making the girls shape their own future through quality education. But is unfortunate that the popular actor 'Appu' as he was fondly called, left all of us so soon, he said.

Maintaining that the pain of Puneeth's demise will take a long time to heal, Jayadeva said that the late actor had deep concerns for the future of disadvantaged girl children, just like his parents Dr. Rajkumar and Parvathamma Rajkumar had.

Recalling that Puneeth maintained a close association with Shakthidhama ever since his parents founded it in 1997, Jayadeva said that Puneeth never forgot to visit Shakthidhama when he was in Mysuru. Pointing out that Puneeth always stood like a rock for the development of Shakthidhama, he said that Puneeth and his elder brother Shivaraj Kumar had planned to raise funds from their fans in America for setting up their dream school.

He further said that Puneeth donated all the money that he earned from his popular TV show 'Kannadada Kotyadhipati' for the growth of Shakthidhama.

"I am heartbroken by the sad and sudden demise of Puneeth Rajkumar, whose contribution to Shakthidhama is enormous. Children of Shakthidhama will never ever forget the generous donations made by him in both cash and kind over the years," Jayadeva said.

Shakthidhama Treasurer M.N. Sumana and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Treacle

Pronunciation: TREE-kul.
Meaning: Treacle is a British word for molasses. The heavy sweetness of the syrup influenced people to apply its name to things overly sentimental.
Origin: Treacle begins in ancient Greece. The Greek word thēriakos, meaning "of a wild animal," came from thērion ("wild animal"). Since wild animals are often known to bite, these words gave rise to thēriakē, meaning "antidote against a poisonous bite." Latin borrowed thēriakē as theriaca. Those roots gave life to treacle referring to molasses (developing from the "antidote" sense). The "molasses" sense was extended to things excessively sweet or sentimental.
Example: "But Parr's script swings so often between artistic triumph and personal tragedy that the structure quickly feels predictable, and lines likely intended to be inspirational sound more like pat treacle." — Steve Barnes, The Times Union (Albany, New York), 25 Aug. 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Tabefaction

Wasting away; emaciation.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Third times a charm

Meaning: When you use the expression 'Third time's a Charm' you mean that the third time something is attempted, luck is sure to result. The phrase is also used as an actual good luck charm that's spoken just before you try something for the third time.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'third time's a charm' is probably ancient, as things that come in sets of three have often been associated with good luck due to their similarity with the Holy Trinity of Christianity. The first time a similar phrase was seen in print was in 1839, in Elizabeth Barrett Browning's work Letters Addressed to R.H. Horne: "The luck of the third adventure is proverbial."
Example: "I sure hope he doesn't strike out again." Answer: "Maybe he'll get lucky. After all, third time's a charm!"

QUOTE BOX

All the diversity, all the charm, and all the beauty of life are made up of light and shade. — Leo Tolstoy

Drugs-On-Cruise Case

Aryan Khan walks out of jail

Mumbai, Oct. 30- Aryan Khan, the son of superstar Shah Rukh Khan, today walked out of a Mumbai jail after nearly four weeks. The 23-year-old was granted bail on Thursday by the Bombay High Court in the drugs-on-cruise case but spent two nights in jail as his bail papers missed the 5.30 pm deadline on Friday.

Around 11 am, surrounded by security men, the star's son got into a waiting white Range Rover and was driven away. This morning, Arthur Road jail officials were seen taking out bail papers from "bail box", setting off the process for Aryan's release.

Since morning, fans have been crowding outside Shah Rukh Khan's Mannat home with

"Welcome Home, Aryan" posters. Earlier, the megastar's cavalcade was seen leaving for the Arthur Road Jail. Mukul Rohatgi, former Attorney General of India, fought for Aryan Khan's bail in the High Court for three days.

Actor Juhi Chawla, Shah Rukh Khan's co-star in the early days of his film career, signed the Rs. 1 lakh bail bond for Aryan Khan. That step was necessary for the Mumbai sessions court to sign the release papers that were to be sent directly to the prison.

Aryan Khan spent nearly a month in jail after his arrest following a Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) raid on a cruise ship party on October 2. He was "Accused Number 1" in the case in which a total of 20 were arrested.

The anti-drugs agency found no drugs on him, but claimed in courts that his WhatsApp chats proved his involvement in "illicit drug deals" and links with a foreign drugs cartel.

The Bombay HC has listed 14 conditions for his bail. Aryan Khan cannot leave Mumbai without informing Police and has to appear before the agency every Friday.
